COVID crisis relief "Women helping Women"

COVID 19 (Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome corona virus 2) outbreak started in Wuhan, China in December 2019 and was declared as pandemic by WHO on 11th March 2020. COVID 19 pandemic impact was greatly felt among under privileged women and children in Asia. ABWU was drawn to the attention of the needs of underprivileged women and children, increase in domestic violence and child abuse, displaced people trapped between COVID 19 and war in conflict zones. ABWU officers came into action and pool resources to launch a "Women help Women" project and started sending out funds to these affected groups as early as 17th April. A new ABWU COVID 19 updates Facebook was created for awareness making full use of social media to announce Women help Women program and to seek support if they are in need.

Although ABWU was never noted as an Aid giver,

COVID 19 pandemic made us sprung into action to reach out our helping hands to those women and children usually marginalized and left out by other donors. 10 countries and 15 organizations were given assistance and although the amount may not be that big, it made a lot of impact on the many lives affected by COVID 19. COVID 19, pandemic has affected many lives around the world but has also given us opportunities to help one another, getting to know one another, closer ties to sisters and to God. ABWU is grateful to have partnership and support from International Ministers for their grant and also many other individual donors who came forward to help the women and children in need in Asia.
